Washington, June 21.—The lock type of canal won in the senate, 36 to 31.

Hurry Canal Consideration.
Washington, June 21.—The senate lost little time today in beginning its consideration of the sea level Panama canal bill, with a view of taking a final vote on the measure before adjourning for the day. The first speech on the subject was made by Cullom in opposition to the sea level bill on the ground both of expense and impracticability. He contended the president has authority under the Spooner act to construct a lock canal.

Kill Direct Vote.
Washington, June 21.—The joint resolution amending the constitution of the United States so as to provide for the election of senators by a direct vote of the people and extending the terms of representatives to four years was defeated in the house by a vote of 89 to 86, two-thirds being necessary for passage. The linking together of the two propositions was the snag on which the measure was wrecked, it being held that while there was a demand for a popular ballot for senators no sentiment in favor of extending the terms of representatives is apparent.

Reform Baggage Checking.
A bill compelling common carriers engaged in interstate commerce to check baggage to its destination on transportation offered, whether in the form of what is known as a "split ticket" or a regular form of ticket on one line and mileage or other ticket on another line, was passed by the house. This measure is of considerable interest to the traveling public and was inspired by a large amount of complaint over the practices of some of the railroads.

FATHER TO PROVE DOWIE'S BIRTH

Aged Iowan Looks Like Twin Brother of Son Who Disowns Him.

Chicago, June 21.—Disowned by his son, John Murray Dowie, father of John Alexander Dowie, the "First Apostle," arrived in Chicago last evening alone, having left the seclusion of his cottage in the village of Essex, Iowa, to refute the assertions of his son and clear the name of his dead wife.

The appearance of the old man in Chicago was far different from that of his son when traveling. Instead of a private car or special train, he stepped from a Pullman coach, carrying two antique valises which held the proofs of the birth of John Alexander and the old man's modest laundry.

Look Like Twins.

The 21 years' difference between the ages of the father and son have been lost in the lines of the old man's face and he looks as like the son as if they were twin brothers. The bald head, patriarchal beard, tall hat, and even the voice and smile are the same.

"You will need no papers to prove that you are the father of the 'First Apostle,'" said Deacon Piper, who met him at the station and escorted him to his room at the Great Northern hotel. "All that you need to do is to step into the court room and the judge will recognize you."

Denies Parentage.

He will receive no welcome from his son. John Alexander Dowie has testified that the old man is not his father and he will not recognize him as such. "I have two sons. They are John Alexander, the mortal, and Andrew, who lives in Australia and is the finest salesman in the country," said the old man proudly. "You see, I say John Alexander 'the mortal.' That shows

MOTIVE IS REVEALED

Mrs. McKinney Told of Hate for Stella Grady.

SO NURSE TESTIFIES

Emphasized With Profanity—Severe Blow for the Defense.

Peoria, Ill., June 21.—(Special.)—A number of additional witnesses for the state were examined in rebuttal this morning, some of them members of Mrs. McKinney's church at Alledo. The gist of the testimony was that the defendant appeared sane at the time her alleged cruel acts were committed and was posing as a society leader in her home town. The case is expected to go to the jury Saturday, though to bring this about it may be necessary to hold a night session of court.

Blow for Defense.

Peoria, Ill., June 21.—The defense of insanity on which has hung the only hope of Mrs. McKinney's friends to save her from the penitentiary was given a crushing blow in the rebuttal evidence which has made the prosecution confident of a conviction and caused a decided change in public opinion.

As the case stands, it is a balance between the positive evidence of laymen that Mrs. McKinney is sane and has been sane, against the opinion of alienists that she is of unsound mind. The fact that a jury, especially a jury of middle aged men, is apt to disregard expert evidence, has lent additional confidence to the state.

Knew She Was Sane.

The crowning evidence of the state came yesterday from Miss Ella Lockwood, the girl who nursed Mrs. McKinney during her previous trial. Miss Lockwood swore to two incidents which went as strong proof of the sanity of Mrs. McKinney last December. The day that Dr. Wright testified at Alledo that he thought that Mrs. McKinney was insane because he had seen her down town alone late at night Mrs. McKinney said to me on our way home, "Dr. Wright is a fool if that made him think I was insane. I was waiting for my husband, who was in his office in the building."

Miss Lockwood added that Mr. McKinney had sat up until 10 o'clock the night the jury went out waiting to see if the lights in the jury room went out indicating an agreement, and then she told of how Mrs. McKinney had admitted her guilt to her, and shown a motive for her crime. This is the first time that the state has been able to show a clear motive.

Hated Her.

"I tortured Stella Grady, I did everything to her which they accuse me of except one or two things. I treated her cruelly. I hated her. I hated her to the last. I hated her to the last."

The witness concluded her evidence by declaring that Mrs. McKinney had at all times appeared rational to her. Her evidence was unshaken on cross examination.

EPITOME OF DOINGS IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

Washington, D. C., June 21.—Following is a brief resume taken from the official records of yesterday's proceedings in both houses of congress.

SENATE.—The meat inspection provision of the agricultural appropriation bill was discussed in the senate on a motion to grant the conference requested by the house, and speeches were made by Messrs. The sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying $102,347,279, a net increase of $7,760,209 over the sum passed by the house, was reported. In order to expedite the consideration of this measure a night session was held, after which adjournment was taken at 10:30 p.m. until today.

HOUSE.—The house cleaned up considerable business, among the bills passed under suspension of the rules being the following: Appropriating $25,000 for the traveling expenses of the president; increasing the efficiency of the bureau of insular affairs by conferring the rank and pay of a brigadier general upon the chief of the bureau; regulating the checking of baggage by common carriers. The joint resolution increasing the terms of representation to four years and providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people failed to receive the two-thirds vote necessary for its passage. The same fate was meted out to the bill permitting national banks to make loans on real estate as security. Conference reports on the executive, legislative and judicial appropriation bill and the measure providing for the subdivision of lands entered under the reclamation act were adopted. A rule was passed to begin consideration of the pure food bill today and after 12 hours of debate to vote on the substitute to the senate bill without intervening motion. At 5:30 p.m. adjournment until today was taken.

WOMEN SEND MRS. KAUFMANN TO JAIL

Threaten to Dynamite Home of Sioux Falls Servant Beaten if Allowed Liberty.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 21.—One hundred women, among the most prominent of this city's socially elect, decided to take justice into their own hands and send Mrs. Emma Kaufmann to jail for the alleged murder of her young servant girl, or dynamite the mansion in which she and her husband, a millionaire brewer, live. The result was that Mrs. Kaufmann went to jail. The Kaufmann home is still standing and its mistress is likely to remain in a cell for some time, as she and her husband have decided that it is the safest place for her for the present.

City in an Uproar.

All Sioux Falls is in an uproar over the affair. Mobs stormed the court-house yesterday, threatening to lynch Mrs. Kaufmann. The death of the 17-year-old servant girl, Agnes Polreis, June 1, followed by the exhuming of the body, the discovery of 45 wounds on it, evidence seeming to show that Mrs. Kaufmann had beaten her most severely, and the accusation of the girl's employer caused a sensation.

But when, instead of being sent to jail, the millionaire's wife was permitted to stay at her home "in custody of the sheriff" while the preliminary hearing dragged on, popular indignation grew until the storm broke today. The meeting of the hundred women and the threats to lynch Mrs. Kaufmann were the results.

Authorities Acted.

The situation grew so grave that the authorities bestirred themselves, brought the hearings to a hasty end, and sent Mrs. Kaufmann to jail, formally charged with murder. She will be tried in November.

The commissioners declare the attacks of the mob on Jews could have been stopped at any stage in the rioting by energetic intervention of police and troops.
